OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE CITY

The Food Pledge sent out by Comsissioner Hoover calling for a meatless day, a wheatless meal daily, no butter in cooking, and the gospel of the clean plate is serving its purpose in directing the attention of housekeepers to the sorts of food which it is most desirable to have them conserve and also methods of saving; but a good many Tropico women have not yet signed and turned them in to the Chairman to be forwarded to headquarters. This is not because Tropico women are not loyal, patriotic citizens. They are simply debating the requirements and asking themselves whether they can keep such a pledge, and also whether it is altogether just for the government to ask them to do so at this stage of affairs. Almost every day the Sentinel receives a call from some housewife who is hesitaing over some item. To all such the advice is given to strike out such parts of the pledge as they are not willing to carry out, and then sign. A good many raise this objection: Why should we be asked to deny ourselves and our families all wheat products at one meal daily to the end that more wheat may be sent to Europeans who cannot satisfactorily substitute corn because unfamiliar with its use, when John Barleycorn is allowed for his breweries rye and barley which might otherwise be sent to Europeans who are well acquainted with those grains for bread production?

Tropico women have been keeping the spirit of the pledge for a long time and began doing so before it was ever formulated into this document for their signatures. They are perfectly willing to economize within reason but they do not want business crippled by unnecessary "skimping" on the part of buyers, nor do they want the small grocery around the corner nor the market adjacent to be forced to close their doors; because the more business places are closed the more idle men and women to hunt for jobs will be thrown upon the world and the more the towns will suffer, especially the small towns. There is a great deal of hard, sound, practical sense in the advice of Mr. Wanamaker, published in the Sentinel last week, to "Keep Business Going for the Good of the Country." Business will not be kept going if we cut off consumption, neither will there be any incentive to increase production.

GROWTH AND SILENCE.

There is nothing more impressive as an exhibition of power than the expansion of a great tree and its wonderful power of resisting the storms and winds. But that process is soundless; eternal silence seems to brood in the shadow of this miracle of strength and dignity.—Hamilton W. Mabie.

"I'm afraid," said the junior member of the law firm, "that we are causing our client unnecessary trouble."

"Oh, that's all right," rejoined the senior member; "we'll charge him for it."—Boston Transcript.

FAVORS GLENDALE

Tropico, Calif, July 16, 1917.
Tropico Interurban Sentinel,
Tropico, Cal.

Attention of Editor.

Gentlemen:

In the issue of July 12th, of your paper, appeared a letter signed by Mr. John A. Paine, favoring the consolidation of Tropico with Los Angeles, and as many residents of Tropico and Glendale are lead to believe that the writer is connected with the local basket factory, on account of the name, I desire at this time to say that the policy of the Los Angeles Basket Company is against the city of Tropico consolidating with Los Angeles, but do favor the consolidation with Glendale.

The Company is considering at the present time the erection of a concrete fire proof warehouse on our property in Tropico, but there is a question whether the same will be built if Tropioc is annexed to Los Angeles, for if we are to be subject to Los Angeles city ordinances applied to country property, it would be financially to our interests to move the plant into the manufacturing district of Los Angeles and consolidate our factories under one management, where we now own property, and save freight to Tropico and back to Los Angeles.

We believe that Tropico has everything to lose and nothing to gain by going into Los Angeles at this time.

Very truly yours,
Los Angeles Basket Company,
Herman Paine,
President and Manager.

WILL THERE BE ANY STARS IN HER CROWN?

Mrs. Wesley Bullis has been seriously considering the Hoover food pledge as behooves a patriotic citizen and the influential president of the Thursday Afternoon Club. When last seen she proposed to solve the problem by an eatless meal and asked whether, in the Sentinel's opinion, she would not be entitled to credit and a tag in her window to testify to her loyalty. It will mean two meals a day for Mrs. Bullis, which coincides with her custom and desire, and since most people eat three meals with all the wheat and meat and butter they suggest to the imagination, why shouldn't Mrs. Bullis' plan be an easy solution of the problem how to do without?

ACCIDENT

Mrs. Herman Barlet of 620 North Glendale avenue, is recuperating from an accident which might have proved quite serious. Among the Barlet possessions is an old and highly valued picture of a quaint yard in one of the old German cities. It is a clothesyard and a lineful of clothes occupies the foreground. In the background are a picturesque high stone wall and towers of beautiful churches and public buildings. The place has family associations for Mr. Barlet. Some time ago the glass covering the picture was broken. One evening last week Mrs. Barlet discovered the broken glass was in danger of falling and undertook to remove the loose pieces. She was preparing for bed and her feet were bare. In some way a piece of the glass sharply pointed fell and pierced her foot, sending the blood spurting in all directions. Mr. Barlet came to the rescue and the foot was tightly bound, soaked in hot water and covered with such outward applications as Mrs. Barlet is in the habit of using in like emergencies. She is now able to hobble around on the injured member and expects soon to be quite well again.

TURNED DOWN

At the request of the California Women's Committee, Councils of National and State Defense, Mrs. Wesley Bullis called a meeting at her home of presidents of the fourteen organizations in Tropico to which women belong for the purpose of determining whether they would organize in Tropico a branch to co-operate with the Committee of National Defense above named. Seven presidents responded and they represented social and literary organizations, church societies, lodges, the W.R.C., and the P.T.A. Every woman present save one declared her hands were too full to justify her particiuation in the work of another organization. All expressed themselves as anxious to push the Red Cross work which they consider so practical and necessary that they are disposed to concentrate upon it and through the Tropico Auxilliary carry out any other important work of a patriotic nature without another organization. Mrs. Ella Richardson, president of the Cerritos P.T.A., alone voted for the extra committee, but inasmuch as she is a resident of Glendale where a National Defense Comimttee has already been formed, she will not be cut off from participation there in any lines of work which the local committee may undertake to cover.

Women have been accused of dissipating their forces by trying to make their activities cover too wide a field. It seems to the Sentinel that these representative Tropico women showed wisdom in turning down the proposition and deciding to concentrate on the Red Cross.

There are women who enjoy chairmanships and official responsibilities and who will work hard if given such coveted positions. To enlist such it may be well to multiply organizations which will co-operate in the patriotic campaigns which the government is inaugurating; but for Tropico, the field of endeavor afforded by its modest Red Cross Auxiliary, if well worked, will yield the maximum results.

RED CROSS ADDRESS

That Tropico is very far from indifferent to the Red Cross and its needs, we have had ample proof, but it was not easy to convince Miss Timberlake, who addressed the open meting at the City Hall Monday evening that such was the case in the face of the small audience which came out to hear her. It was an attentive audience, however; and one which was deeply stirred by her intimate recital of experiences and conditions at the front, of the awful suffering and crying need of supplies at the frontier hospitals. It stiffened determination in the breasts of workers who were there to greater efforts to contribute to the comfort of the men on the fighting line; whether they be Europeans or Americans. Her urgent plea was for wool garments, particularly socks and pajamas, and for blankets. She declared that whether the war ends or not there will be work for the Red Cross for years in the care of the victims of war, both soldiers and civilians.

Mr. T. B. Brown of Hollywood contributed a recitation which was much enjoyed and Mrs. Wiliam Crawford played a patriotic medley upon the piano accompanied by J. J. Burke who introduced the bugle calls at intervals.

From cake and punch served by Mesdames Kennedy and Moore about $5 was realized. An interesting exhibit of work was made and a very satisfactory financial report submitted by the Treasurer. Mr. Peterson of Blanche avenue presented the funds ($45) realized from the Red Cross dance given by the Acacia School Club.

BIRTHDAY SURPRISE

Members of the Chandler family to the number of thirty assembled July 13th at the Chandler home on Cypress avenue to celebrate the eightieth birthday of Mr. C. C. Chandler. He was completely surprised but enjoyed the occasion as thoroughly as did the guests who spent a happy evening with music and games, not to mention birthday refreshments. Mr. Chandler was also the recipient of many gifts and congratulatory letters and messages.

Chaco Indians of Brazil.

The Indians of the Chaco region in Brazil have been more successful in opposing inroads by white men than have any other people of South America. Up to a few years ago it meant annihilation for the white man to oppose the Chaco Indians. It is in this region that the rhea, or South American ostrich, is found. The hunters have been after them for years for their plumes. The Indians are fond of the flesh, also of the eggs, which are a little strong. Incidentally, the Indians are not at all particular whether the eggs are fresh. The biggest nest found by explorers contained thirty-seven eggs, one of which is ample to supply the needs of a hungry family.

Of course you needn't take our advice if you don't want to, but if you live in a glass house you ought to build a high board fence around it.—Dallas News.

Mr. Cleveland's "Backbone."

In the summer of 1884 James J. Hill had been sizing up the political situation in his part of the country. Mr. Cleveland's name was in the air. Nobody knew very much about him. Mr. Hill went to New York and talked with Mr. Tilden, whom he knew well. They had great esteem for each other.

"What about this man Cleveland?" was the question Mr. Hill had to ask.

"He is all right," said Mr. Tilden. "He is absolutely honest and is not afraid of anything."

"But has he backbone?"

"Backbone! He has so much that it makes his stomach stick out in front."—From "The Life of James J. Hill," in World's Work.

SNELL-McWHORTER WEDDING

The marriage of Katherine Snell and Wilbur McWhorter last Tuesday evening at the home of the mother of the bride, Mrs. Mary M. Snell, 116 E. Eulalia street, marked the culmination of a romance of long standing. Eleven years ago, soon after the Snell family settled in Tropico, the young people met and began the acquaintance which ripened into love.

It was a quiet affair necessarily limited to relatives and a few intimate friends, as the family connections of both the contracting parties are numerous. About sixty guests were witnesses, the ceremony being performed by Dr. Pritchard, pastor of the Vermont Avenue Branch of Emanuel Presbyterian Church. Along a pathway strewn with flowers by little Mary Elizabeth Boschke, the bride advanced to the strains of the Lohengren wedding march played by Mrs. Edgar Fry. Under a canopy of ferns and flowers she was met by the groom and the clergyman and the wedding vows were exchanged. There were no other attendants save William Snell, the brother who gave the bride away. A very beautiful bride she was too in her lace trimmed wedding gown of white silk crepe with wedding veil caught with orange blooms and carrying a shower boquet of white sweet peas and maidenhair fern.

During the ceremony a piano accompaniment was softly played by Mrs. Fry who also furnished the accompaniment for two vocal numbers contributed by Mrs. Ella McWhorter, sister-in-law of the groom who sang "I Love You Truly," and "O, Promise Me."

The setting for the sacred rite was beautiful too, as the Snell parlors had been converted into a bower of wild, rustic beauty by the skillful use of wild ferns, sunflowers, matillaja poppies and masses of coreopsis, in a design devised and effectively carried out by the loving hands of Miss Sarah-Faye Snell, sister of the bride, who was assisted in her pleasant task by Mr. and Mrs. Hurlburt Harrison.

After refreshments had been served the happy paid left for a brief wedding trip. After August first they will be prepared to welcome their friends at their ranch home at San Fernando and Fletcher avenues, about 1½ miles from Tropico on the Los Angeles side. In addition to the care of his farm, Mr. McWhorter conducts a hardware business in Los Angeles.

The Snell family have lived long enough in Tropico to acquire a large circle of friends with whom Mrs. McWhorter has always been a great favorite. They rejoice in the fact that her home is not far distant and their good wishes attend her in her new life.

DEAR OLD ILLINOIS

As most Californians are the product of some other state transplanted to this land of oil and wine from somewhere in the United States, and as many of us come from the fertile middle west, notorious for its dust and mud, the following news item clipped from the Southern Illinois Record, will revive memories of bygone days. The Record is published by Mr. E. B. Gorrell, formerly of Tropico, but now of Flora, Illinois, and at one time owner of the Sentinel:

"An important meeting for Flora of the city council was held Monday evening, for at this meeting a decision was reached to purchase a traction engine and street sweeper. Also, under the authority of a law passed by the late Illinois legislature, the council made a special appropriation of three mills on the dollar on all taxable property within the city, the same to create a fund to be used exclusively for oiling Flora's streets.

"It is estimated that this tax will give the city next year a fund of about $1500 for street oiling purposes. None of this fund, however, will be available for this year.

"Mayor Price believes that a tractor and street sweeper will save the city at least 50 per cent in street work, besides doing more and better work within any given time.

"Thus the Flora housewives, and readers of the Record, will take notice that relief from the insufferable dirt and choking dust of our streets is coming, and that, at least, we may all look forward with hope that next summer, if we survive, we may live in our homes and offices and business houses with more comfort and satisfaction.

"The writer recalls that twenty years ago his readers laughed at him for advocating the theory of oiled roads to lay the dust and mud. People said it was visionary—that it couldn't be done. Now, at last, the state recognizes it, and in effect orders it done. Verily the world moves, even if it does move slow."

After attending the Christian Endeavor convention at Riverside, Miss Phebe Snell of 116 E. Eulalia avenue accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Frank Boschke to Catalina for a two weeks' vacation from which she returned last week in time to participate in preparations for the wedding of her sister Katherine.

Attorney General Webb has ruled against the referendum to suspend the operation of the tax limit law passed by the California legislature at the last session and which will take effect July 30th. Others have pronounced it the best law for the protection of tax payers that has been enacted in several years.

Mr. John Laws of Palmer avenue seems to think the question of annexation is a chestnut. He expressed the opinion that eventually Tropico Would become a part of Los Angeles and until the time is ripe for that union, she would better remain as she is. In other words he does not favor going to Los Angeles "around Robin Hood's Barn" by the Glendale route.

Mrs. Bryning of 619 N. Brand Boulevard, is lamenting the departure of her father, who has been visiting her since last February. Last Saturday he returned to his home in Tacoma, Washington. Mrs. Bryning has been seriously ill but is now able to sit up and is gaining rapidly.

Little Gladys Peckham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Peckham of Glendale and grand-daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Chandler, is very ill and it is rumored that she is a victim of typhoid fever.

A very enjoyable out-door rehearsal was given by the Tropico Band Tuesday evening on San Fernando Boulevard opposite the entrance to Yeomen Hall. The samples were so good that the really truly concert and dance promised by the Band for July 31st as a benefit for the Red Cross, is certain to be fine and should attract a big atendance.

Mrs. Charles Segar and son left Tropico Monday for a short visit in St. Paul, Minnesota.

Mr. J. W. McMillan suffered a stroke of appoplexy last Monday.

Miss Adda Burch is engaged at Chautauqua Assembly in the C.L.S.C. Dept.

Specially Wrapped Books.

At a certain woman managed bookshop in New York a feature is made of specially wrapped books for gifts. The books, mostly choice editions of very modern literature, are inclosed in charmingly decorated envelopes or fancy Japanese papers. The inner wrapper, for example, may be of silver paper, with bindings of a dull blue, dull finished weave, and catching these together a half moon in orange. Another unusual wrapping is flecked orange paper, banded with black, and with cross strappings of gold and a piping of bright green. Greenish gold papers are used for other books. There are innumerable colorful combinations to be achieved.—New York World.

Far West Is East.

It is a curious but almost unnoticed fact that San Francisco is three degrees of longitude east of the geographical center of that portion of the United States located in North America. San Francisco is closer to the extreme eastern portion of the coast of Maine than it is to the extreme western portion of the United States. It is about 7,000 miles from New York to the nearest Asiatic port; it is only twelve miles from the western end of the United States to the continent of Asia, for the western line of the United States must be measured north and south at the extreme western portion of Alaska.—Exchange.

There is much value in the sunflower as a plant. Its seeds make fine food for live stock, its oil is equal to the best linseed, and its stalks are good as fuel.

FRANKLIN WILLIAMS

The sympathies of all who had knowledge of the sad event were deeply stirred by the death last Monday morning at 131 West Eulalia street of Franklin Williams, who came to Tropico only last Friday with his young wife and his mother, Mrs. Howard Williams, in the hope that the favorable climate of our city would stay the course of "the great white plague" of which he was a victim. But it was not to be. They came here because of their acquaintance with the Virden family through Miss Melicent Virden, a student in the colonly of musicians in Vienna several years ago when he was also a member. He was a violinist of wonderful powers and went abroad to study under Sevcik, the famous teacher of Kubelik, Kochian, Ondricek, Marie Hall, etc. Professor Sevick has testified to his great natural gifts and brillian technique. His illness followed a breakdown from overwork and in the hope of restoring his health his parents took him to Egypt. There his musical genius attracted attention and he was invited to play before the Khedive from whom he received handsome gifts bestowed in appreciation of his great talent. Later he gave a series of concerts in London, Vienna and other musical centers of Europe, finally returning to his native city, Toronto, where he was warmly welcomed.

While returning from a trip abroad he met Miss Spyker of New Orleans and "love took up the harp of life." Knowing that he was doomed he refused to claim her hand, but finally yielded to her entreaties to be permitted to minister to him as a wife until the end, and they were married August 16th, 1916, just eleven months ago.

Mr. Howard Williams, father of the deceased, arrived Tuesday evening and funeral services conducted by a Christian Science reader will be held at 131 Eulalia St. Interment will be made in Toronto.

WANTED: Tinfoil, papers, magazines, old gloves, pieces of new cotton goods, percale, ginghsm, outing flannel, old paper patterns, old magazines, for the Red Cross. Report to the Tropico Sentinel.

PROCEEDINGS OF BOARD OF TRUSTEES

All members were present at the meeting of the City Council last Tuesday evening and some important business was transacted.

Fire Hose

Proposals for the furnishing of 300 feet of 2½-inch fire hose, together with samples in two grades, were submitted by four concerns; viz: The Pyrene Company, Los Angeles Rubber Co., Gorham Fire Apparatus Company, and the Bowers' Rubber Works. Prices were in substantial agreement for the two qualities, viz: 75c and 90c per foot, and guaranteed to withstand a pressure of 400 pounds. Later in the sesion on motion of Veselich, the Board voted to purchase 350 feet of 75c hose from the Bowers Rubber Works for the reason that the hose now in use by the city was purchased from that concern and has proven satisfactory.

Election Resolution

A resolution prepared by City Attorney Shaw, per instructions of the Board, providing for an election to vote upon the consolidation of the cities of Tropico and Los Angeles, was read by the City Clerk and approved by the Board, the election being set for August 29th.

Bad Street Work

City Engineer Watles reported that the repair work done by the Telephone Company at Brand and San Fernando Boulevards was unsatisfactory and recommended that the trench work be rejected and that the Company's deposit be held until it should be made satisfactory. He also described needed repairs of the San Fernando paving between Brand and the city limits. The City Clerk was instructed to transmit to the Telephone Company a copy of the portion of the enginer's report referring to the repair work done by the Company.

Annual Report

City Clerk Van Wie submited his annual report for the year ending June 30th, 1917, which the Board accepted and ordered published in the Tropico Sentinel.

Purchase of Property

President Peters reported that pursuant to the instrutcions of the Board he had on the 14th day of July bid in at public sale the property described in Street Improvement Bond No. 10, sold for non-payment of principal and interest, paying therefore $50.87, the sum total of the bond, accrued interest, expense of advertising, etc.

Demands

The following demands were approved and ordered paid: Puente Oil Company $6.99; Wm. Winterlitz $5; So. Cal. Gas Co. (for Fire Dept.) 61c; Tropico Sentinel (publishing of notice of sale) $8.70; Milton Armstrong, cleaning light globes $13.75.

The Board then adjourned.

FAMILY REUNION

Mrs. Reo Marden (sister in law of Mrs. Wesley Bullis) and Lowell, son of Mrs. Marden, are guests in the Bullis home. They are enroute for their home in Oakland, Cal., after visiting friends and relatives in Missouri. They were joined the last of the week by Mr. Marden who will return to Oakland with them. Sunday there was a reunion of the Marden family at the home of another brother, Leo Marden in Los Angeles. It was the first gathering of the kind in several years and it may be as many before they are again united. Leo Marden is captain of the Coast Artillery and expects a call any day.

Arrangements have been made to recruit men for the new Field Artillery Regiments of California through chiefs of police of the cities of Southern California. Chief Gould of Tropico has received a letter from the Acting Recruitlng Officer, Stewart Edward White stating that Tropico's quota is four men. This is a very desirabl e branch of the service and men interested can secure full information from Mr. Gould.

Mr. and Mrs. M.M. Eshelman returned from Selma and Fresno last Thursday. They are now engaged iu a Colonization project to place members of the Church of the Brethern and others on the Bullar d Lands north of Fresno city.

DOES NOT INSURE FUTURE

The impression is too frequently conveyed by the Torrens Title Companies, says the Financial News in its issue of June 16th, that because the process of a court is required to register the property, for that reason the title vested in the registered owner is indisputably conclusive and forever thereafter remains free from the defects and flaws inherent in human institutions. That is, that the registration proceedings not only clears up all defects in the title prior to the entry of the decree by the court, but is an absolute guard against the recurrence of all defects or flaws in the title in the future. Nothing can be further from the truth. No decree of court can reach out into the future and adjudicate and determine facts and conditions that did not exist, nor were even thought of at the time the property was registered.

SEWING MACHINE WANTED

Tropico's Red Cross Auxillary has urgent need of a sewing machine which can de kept and used at its head quarters in the City Hall- Can some patriot spare a machine? If so advise Nrs. Hattie Tiffany, Secretary, Tel, Gln. 200 J.

Soft Toned Bells of China.

The natives of China use large bells of their own make in many of their temples and monasteries. I have noticed all through Japan and China that the tone of the monastery and temple bells is very soft and smooth, due to the superior quality of the material used in their manufacture and to the absence of iron clappers, the result being a marvelous softness and mellowness of tone. The bells are never swung, being always suspended in a fixed frame, and the sound is produced by striking them on the outer edge with a wooden mallet This makes the soft tones which are so delightfully melodious.—Consular Reports.

Powerful Plea.

It is told of Rufus Choate that on one occasion he appeared in court to defend a blacksmith whose ironwork had been seized by a creditor.

So powerfully did the great advocate depict the wrong which he contended had been done to his client and so graphic was his description of the extent to which the forge had been stripped that the blacksmith, who sat near by, suddenly burst into tears.

"Why, Tom," said a sympathetic friend, "what's the matter with you? What are you crying about?"

"Oh, dear me," replied the blacksmith between his sobs, "I had no idea I had been so abominably t-t-treated!" —New York Telegraph.

Young Eagles.

An eagle lives from 80 to 100 years. The young birds are driven forth by their savage parents to provide for themselves as soon as they are able to fly. No training is given them by the old bird. That is left to their wild instincts, which hunger and necessity develop. There is no "going back to the old home" for the young eagles. The mother bird tears up every vestige of the nest, and if they emit plaintive shrieks the old birds dart at them and push them off the crags or rocks and thereby make them take to their wings. It takes three years for a young eagle to gain its complete plumage and strength.

Ideals In Statuary.

One scarcely realizes until he comes into personal contact with South American institutions and people the difference of traditional ideals with which North and South America were founded. While through our parks and commons in New England we find statues of the early pilgrim father with a staff in his hand and the Bible under his arm, here in these republics we find in the parks the mailed warrior with lance and sword, the emblem of the Spanish adventurer who first came to drive out the Indian from his possessions, to loot his gold and to place upon the country and its inheritance the stamp of his ruthless ambitions.—Christian Herald.

Heredity.

"Oh, hubby, dear, what do you think are the first words our baby will say?" gurgled Mrs. Matron.

"Well, if she takes after you then will probably be, 'This is a nice time to come home,'" said the brute.

There is an old adage which runs "Who wears a bloodstone, be life short or long, will meet all danger brave and wise and strong."
